Statement of Interest

Dear Chair Edwards, I am excited to serve on the Children, Youth, and Families Collaborative Commission as a young adult representative. My work experience and educational background have one key throughline, pouring my effort and skills into helping local governments find novel solutions for community level issues. I firmly believe that the future is local, the actions we take as a community to care for our children, families, and most vulnerable will not only uplift our community today, but also ensure Alexandria is a place where people want to live and start families for decades to come. In my professional experience, I have immersed myself in education, youth development, and workforce development for educators. Beginning at the National League of Cities where I worked with local partners in Charlotte, NC to create a job training pipeline for early childhood educators, targeting home-based centers largely run by women of color to ensure they got the certifications and training they needed to operate legally and grow their businesses. As a Research Associate at the American Institutes for Research, I support technical assistance projects with state and local education agencies that focus on developing systems to ensure students with disabilities receive the services and education they deserve, evaluating early childhood programs, and helping state agencies deliver targeted services to families from marginalized communities. My educational background was in Environmental Policy, and the intersection of climate justice, early education, and community development energizes me to be involved with the Children, Youth, and Families Collaborative Commission. Since moving to Alexandria in 2022 I have come to love the city, and it's been apparent to me that Alexandria is a growing and increasingly prosperous city. However, all the prosperity and new development will be a meaningless prize if we do not ensure that we invest in all families and especially our young people. I have read the Commission's Children and Youth Master Plan 2025 and am excited to join the Commission in implementing the plans outlined there as well as bringing my own experiences and skills to crafting new programs serving Alexandria's young people and families.

Statement of Interest

My name is Ashlei Jefferson, born and raised in Alexandria, Virginia. Growing up, I saw firsthand the impact of parental involvement, particularly through my mother's participation in the Parent Leadership Training Institute (PLTI). Now, as a mother myself, I'm inspired to continue this legacy of community engagement. Raising my energetic eight-year-old son has been a journey of constant learning and growth. I'm passionate about ensuring the academic success and safety of all children, which is why I'm eager to join the Children and Family Committee. I want to expand my knowledge, contribute my insights, and advocate for programs that promote educational equity and child welfare. With my background in Alexandria and experience as a parent, I understand the unique needs of our community's families. I'm dedicated to using this insight to champion initiatives that enhance the well-being of our youth. Joining the committee isn't just about personal enrichment—it's about giving back to the community that has given me so much. Thank you for considering my application. I'm excited about the opportunity to contribute to the important work of the Children and Family Committee and to serve our community.

Educational Background

My educational background includes graduating with an advanced diploma from TC Williams High School in 2014. Following that, I pursued further education at Northern Virginia Community College, where I obtained a certificate in bookkeeping. Currently, I am in the process of completing my Associate of Science degree in Business Administration, with plans to resume my studies this fall in 2024.

Summary of Work and Experience

Alongside fulfilling my role as a devoted mother to my eight-year-old son, I've actively pursued continuous learning and self-improvement. Following my graduation with an advanced diploma from TC Williams High School in 2014, I embarked on further education at Northern Virginia Community College. Here, I successfully completed a bookkeeping certificate program. Presently, I am dedicated to attaining my Associate of Science degree in Business Administration, resuming my studies in fall 2024. This educational journey has equipped me with a robust understanding of both practical skills and theoretical concepts. Juggling academic pursuits with the responsibilities of parenthood has been a formative experience, teaching me valuable lessons in time management and organization. I am confident that my multifaceted background, encompassing both academic endeavors and parenting, positions me well to make meaningful contributions to the committee's endeavors.
