Statement of Interest

I have a keen interest in early American History, including that of President Washington’s legacy as our first President and Commander in Chief of the Continental Army. His legacy is especially important in the context of changing political norms. I have a history degree in which I studied early American political philosophy. I also have a degree from George Washington University, a steward of his great legacy. I would be honored to help the city that he helped found, Alexandria, honor his legacy.
