Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I am applying to serve on the Alexandria Housing Affordability Advisory Committee because I believe that safe, stable, and affordable housing is the foundation of community well-being, educational opportunity, and long-term economic mobility. As an Alexandria resident, precinct captain, and educator, I have witnessed firsthand how the rising cost of housing affects families, students, and working professionals across our city. I want to contribute to solutions that are grounded in equity, data, and the lived experiences of the residents most impacted. My professional background includes over two decades of experience in fulfillment and customer service, military leadership, and most recently, public education as a DCPS teacher. These roles have strengthened my ability to analyze complex problems, communicate across diverse communities, and advocate for the needs of working families. Through my civic engagement work in Alexandria, I regularly interact with residents facing housing instability, cost-burden challenges, and limited access to affordable rental or ownership options. I bring a perspective shaped by both community engagement and direct service. I am especially interested in supporting policies that expand affordable housing availability, protect vulnerable households, and promote responsible, sustainable development aligned with Alexandria's long-term growth. I believe in balancing the needs of current residents with the city's future workforce, and I value collaboration across agencies, community partners, and residents. My goal is to contribute thoughtful, community-centered recommendations that strengthen affordability, accessibility, and fairness in our housing landscape. I am committed to the work of this committee, to attending meetings consistently, and to representing the voices of residents who are often unheard in housing policy conversations. Serving on this advisory committee would be an opportunity to contribute meaningfully to the future of Alexandria, and I would be honored to do so. Thank you for your consideration.

Educational Background

George Mason University Bachelor of Arts in Criminology, Law, & Society Graduated: May 2025 Relevant coursework: Public policy, criminal justice systems, research methods, community engagement, and urban social problems. Germanna Community College Associate of Science in Administration of Justice Graduated: May 2023

Summary of Work and Experience

I bring experience in education, customer service, logistics, and public service, along with a strong commitment to community needs here in Alexandria. I currently work as a Social Studies teacher at MacFarland Middle School in Washington, D.C., where I support students and families from diverse backgrounds. This role has strengthened my communication skills, patience, and understanding of how issues like housing stability affect students' daily lives and long-term success. Before entering education, I worked at Lowe's in fulfillment and customer assistance for 2-3 years, helping residents and contractors with essential home-related needs. This experience gave me practical insight into the challenges families face with housing costs, home maintenance, and access to affordable materials. I also have experience as a FedEx delivery driver, which gave me firsthand knowledge of different neighborhoods and the day-to-day realities families experience across our region. Additionally, I worked as a behavioral technician in an elementary school, supporting students who required additional guidance and care. Across all my roles, I have developed strong interpersonal skills, problem-solving abilities, and a deep commitment to serving my community. I hope to bring this perspective to the Alexandria Housing Affordability Advisory Committee.
