Statement of Interest

I grew up studying in libraries after school by myself and with my friends, and I've always considered it to be a place of community, safety, and learning in my life and in the lives of others. Libraries are critical third spaces and archives of knowledge that must be nurtured and protected from forces that seek to diminish their presence and their utility so they can stand for the generations of today and tomorrow, young and old, rich and poor, who seek a safe space to learn and explore. I believe that I have a perspective that will be very useful to the City and to the Library board in providing quality programming and ensuring free accessibility of information to all Alexandria residents.
