Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
As a dedicated resident of Alexandria for the past eight years, I am excited to express my interest in serving as a citizen board member on the City's Information Technology Board. My professional background in privacy, cybersecurity, data governance, and AI governance, combined with my deep affection for Alexandria, uniquely positions me to contribute meaningfully to the Board's mission. With over a decade of experience in privacy and cyber risk management, I have helped organizations develop robust frameworks to protect sensitive information, ensure compliance, and foster trust with stakeholders. My expertise in data governance has enabled me to lead teams in implementing best practices for data stewardship, transparency, and ethical use of technology. Most recently, I have led AI governance initiatives, guiding organizations in the responsible adoption and oversight of artificial intelligence, with a focus on ethical considerations, risk mitigation, and regulatory compliance. As a Practice Leader at BDO, I regularly advise clients on navigating complex regulatory environments and emerging technology risks. Beyond my professional qualifications, Alexandria is more than just my home—it is where I am raising my children and investing in our community's future. I am passionate about ensuring that our city remains a leader in responsible technology adoption, safeguarding resident data, and promoting digital inclusion. I believe that thoughtful governance and community engagement are essential as Alexandria continues to innovate and expand its digital services. I am eager to bring my experience, collaborative spirit, and commitment to public service to the Information Technology Board. I look forward to the opportunity to help shape policies and initiatives that will benefit all Alexandria residents, now and in the years to come. Thank you for considering my application. Sincerely, Taryn Crane

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)

I am writing to express my strong interest in serving on the City of Alexandria Information Technology Commission. As an Alexandria resident with a professional background in technology strategy, government contracting, and strategic communications, I am eager to contribute my expertise to advancing IT initiatives in ways that support efficiency, security, transparency, and community access for all Alexandrians. My commitment to service is deeply rooted in my weekly work with the Alexandria Community Shelter (ACS), where I deliver homemade meals for 45 residents on Saturday evenings and assist with meal preparation and food service on Sunday evenings. In this effort, I watch as diverse people from all walks of life work hard to polish their resumes, job search, prepare for interviews, and search for permanent housing. My experience with ACS has opened my eyes to the profound need to expand access to technology resources across the community – especially in support of critical services such as housing, rehabilitation, and social programs. For me, it is vital that diverse populations—particularly our most vulnerable neighbors—are treated with respect, dignity, and love, and that technology be leveraged as a tool to connect them to resources, opportunities, and a pathway to stability. Professionally, I bring expertise in technology strategy and government contracting, having worked with organizations such as Palantir Technologies and Swoop Technologies to align emerging digital solutions with mission needs. In these roles, I have bridged the gap between complex technical capabilities and practical implementation pathways, a skill set I believe is equally critical in helping Alexandria modernize its IT infrastructure while ensuring residents can easily and securely access city services. I hold a Master of Business Administration from George Mason University and a B.A. in English from the University of Tennessee. My academic and professional journey has consistently centered on translating strategy and technology into impactful outcomes, whether for the federal government, industry, or my own community. It would be a privilege to serve on the Commission and contribute to ensuring Alexandria's IT systems and policies are forward-looking, inclusive, and rooted in the values of transparency and accessibility. I am particularly motivated by the opportunity to help Alexandria harness technology in ways that strengthen public trust and improve quality of life for every resident. Thank you for your consideration.
