OPENING

1 Calling the Roll.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Euille, and the City Clerk called the roll. All the members of Council were present. (Councilwoman Hughes arrived at 9:48 p.m.)

Mayor Euille asked that everyone observe a moment of silence in memory of the tragedy in Newtown, Connecticut.

Roll-Call Card

2 Public Discussion Period.

1. John Smucker, 108 N. Quaker Lane, said Council needs to fully fund social services and especially mental health services, especially after yesterday. Guns need to be banned in Alexandria, and people should demonstrate in front of the NRA. He said he and his wife will pay more in taxes if those organizations are funded. He spoke of raising taxes on condominiums. Mr. Smucker noted that on Saturday at 4:30 there will be a gathering at the White House to ban guns.

2. Peter Pennington, 1213 Prince Street, said Charleston, South Carolina is proud of their alleyways, and he passed out a photo of an alley from Charleston, along with an alley from Alexandria. He said he has stepped back generally from being involved in City affairs, so it is not for him to advise Council that the alleyways should be given pervious surfaces as soon as possible to counter the storm of stormwater regulation. He asked Council to look at the alleyways, and to ask the Beautification Commission to look at it and raise sponsorship money and try to get the passageways improved.

Vice Mayor Donley asked the City Manager to refer this to the Beautification Commission for some study and recommendations back to City Council.

3. Dino Drudi, 315 N. West Street, said that in the last several years, he has switched from Metro to taking VRE to work, and he mentioned artwork from the VRE newsletter during the summer that illustrates the train and has Alexandria in the background. The City may wish to acquire this piece of art to be displayed because the railroad heritage is an important part of Alexandria.

4. Shaka Amir Farrakhan, 508 N. Payne Street, said he is an ex-offender, and before his return home six months ago, he discovered that there is nothing for him – he has no access to medical treatment. He said he represents a group called Rejected Stone. The City has only provided a few bus tokens and a fare card once a month. He said there are about 50 of them who have nothing and its becoming real tense once they start to act out those frustrations of not being able to have access to medical treatment, housing and jobs.

Mayor Euille asked the City Manager to get in touch with Mr. Farrakhan and to have a meeting with Social Services, the Sheriff's Office and others.

Public Discussion.

REPORTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE CITY MANAGER

6 Public Hearing and Consideration of the Union Street Corridor Study
Recommendations.

(A copy of the City Manager's memorandum, dated December 5, 2012, is on file in the Office of the City Clerk and Clerk of Council, marked Exhibit No. 1 of item #6, 12/15/12, and is incorporated as part of this record by reference.)

Mr. Baier, Director, Transportation and Environmental Services, along with Mr. Goodman, with Toole Design Associates, and Ms. Fink, with Toole Design, made a presentation of the study and responded to questions from City Council.

The following persons participated in the public hearing on this item:

1. Nathan Macek, chair, Alexandria Waterfront Commission, spoke in support of the plan.
2. Bob Wood, 711 Potomac Street, spoke of the logic flow and how it got misdirected. He said they need a capability/capacity study supportive of potential development, not just a study of existing uses.
3. Jonathan Krall, 6A E. Mason Avenue, chair, Alexandria Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Committee, spoke in support of the plan, and he spoke in strong support of the bike parking in the short-term plan at the foot of King Street.
4. Jody Manor, 823 King Street, owner of Bittersweet on King Street, chair of the Board of Governors of the Convention and Visitors Association and is their representative to the Alexandria Waterfront Commission, spoke in support of the plan.
5. Kathryn Papp, 504 Cameron Street, spoke of pilot studies and said Council should be careful if it's testing the concept of shared streets.
6. Jennifer Mitchell, 335 Laverne Avenue, chair, Alexandria Transportation Commission, spoke in support of the study.
7. Poul Hertel, 1217 Michigan Court, spoke of shared space and the use of the roads by pedestrians, cyclists and drivers.
8. Katy Cannady, 20 E. Oak Street, spoke in opposition to the plan, noting that they should not eliminate any parking spaces.
9. Yvonne Weight Callahan, 735 S. Lee Street, president, Old Town Civic Association, spoke of the different aspects of the plan, north and south end of the traffic management program, noted that raised crosswalks makes a great deal of sense and asked Council to make the no left turn a pilot projects, the shared street concept, and she urged Council to leave the sidewalks the way they are.

Councilman Smedberg asked staff to get an answer to Council on the bump out on the east side of Union Street, cars travel along the curb and the bicyclists are there, how will people shift over.

10. Jerry King, 400 E. Howell Avenue, vice chair, Alexandria Bicycle and Pedestrian Advisory Committee, spoke in support of the plan. He asked that the City Attorney provide a date when the ordinance will be changed for cyclists riding on sidewalks.

11. Gina Baun, 203 S. Fairfax Street, the Park and Recreation Committee representative to the Alexandria Waterfront Commission, spoke in support of the plan.

12. Bert Ely, 200 S. Pitt Street, spoke in opposition to the plan.

13. Dino Drudi, 315 N. West Street, spoke in opposition to the plan, as a pedestrian.

Councilman Speck said he had a suggestion on the second part of the recommendation, which is to suggest language that says, rather than direction to approve the continued consideration of the proposed long-term recommendations.

WHEREUPON, upon motion by Councilman Smedberg, seconded by Vice Mayor Donley and carried unanimously, City Council closed the public hearing and 1. approved the Union Street Corridor Study short-term recommendations detailed in the memorandum; and 2. approved the continued consideration of the proposed long-term recommendations subject to further refinement and modification.

Vice Mayor Donley amended the motion to include the following amendments: For the short-term recommendations, it also include some treatment of Franklin and Union Streets, delineating the boundaries of Windmill Hill Park, whether striping or a raised intersection will be left to staff; on the long-term recommendations, it affirms the direction of the long-term recommendations for further consideration, with attention paid to the flood mitigation plans contemplated by staff, along with the development of recommendations that would include a comprehensive baseline traffic study on traffic and traffic capacity in the Old Town area east of Washington Street.

The amendment was acceptable to the maker of the motion and becomes part of the original motion.

The voting on the motion was as follows: In favor, Mayor Euille, Vice Mayor Donley, Councilman Fannon, Councilwoman Hughes, Councilwoman Pepper, Councilman Smedberg and Councilman Speck; Opposed, none.
