Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
As a new and engaged resident, I am eager to contribute my fresh perspective toward upholding the public trust through transparency. I am currently building a strong network within the city and view this Commission as a vital way to serve that community. My background in government consulting gives me a practical understanding of bureaucratic processes and the critical nature of open government. I offer strong organizational skills, an eye for detail, and the drive to ensure our public records are maintained with integrity. I am fully prepared to dedicate the time and effort necessary to support the Commission's work. I hope you consider me for this role and welcome the opportunity to discuss my background further.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I'm interested in joining the Alexandria Public Records Advisory Commission because I care about transparency and want to support how our city manages and preserves its information. After working for years in roles that require careful documentation, compliance awareness, and organized processes, I'd like to use those skills to contribute locally. I've lived in Alexandria for five years, and with my parents also calling the city home, I feel closely connected to the community and invested in how it continues to grow. I value how engaged and accessible the city is, and I want to help support that by contributing to the systems that help residents understand and access public information. In my work at Warner Bros. Discovery, Pollination, and Meta, I've handled sensitive data, managed programs across multiple regions, and helped build systems that keep information accurate and accessible. A big part of my job has always been making sure records are clear, consistent, and aligned with policy, whether that meant setting up metrics, improving workflows, or coordinating with cross-functional teams. I'm drawn to this commission because public records shape how residents understand city decisions and how our history is preserved. I would bring a detail-oriented and practical perspective along with a genuine interest in helping keep Alexandria's records organized and easy to navigate. Thank you for considering my application.

Summary of Work and Experience

I have more than a decade of experience in talent, operations, and program management across organizations including Warner Bros. Discovery, Pollination, and Meta. My roles have consistently focused on managing complex information, maintaining accurate records, and ensuring processes align with policy and compliance standards. I currently manage the Flex Talent program at Warner Bros. Discovery across multiple regions. Previously, I supported Pollination's U.S. operations by building HR metrics, improving workflows, and overseeing key compliance and documentation needs. My earlier roles at Meta and Discovery involved full-lifecycle recruiting, working with sensitive data, and refining systems that depend on clear communication and organized records. Throughout my career, I've developed strengths in documentation, process improvement, and cross-functional coordination, with a focus on accuracy and practical solutions.
