Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

To Whom It May Concern: I am the strategic executive that you are seeking help your organization. I have experience in all aspects of operations, capital infrastructure projects, strategic planning, budgeting, contracts, and human resources. Therefore, it is with great interest that I am writing to be considered for the Board Member vacancy with AlexRenew Enterprises. As the former President of Conference of Minority Transportation Officials (COMTO) DC, I helped build interest in advocating for minorities and small businesses in transportation. We brought excitement back to COMTO through engaging events, collaboration with other nonprofits, such as Women in Transportation Seminar and Latinos in Transit, and we are actively collaborating with COMTO National on efforts to expand COMTO internationally. Currently, as the Director of Business Development – Passenger & Emerging Technologies with Transportation Technology Center Inc. (TTCI), I help public agencies and transportation providers make their systems safe, efficient, and reliable through technological advancements. Furthermore, as a Virginia Military Institute graduate, I learned about leadership, integrity, and perseverance that has helped me throughout my career. Thank you for your time and consideration. It would be an honor to work with your organization. Sincerely, Jeffrey L. Bennett

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

My career and volunteer experience uniquely equips me to serve on the board of Alexandria Renew Enterprises. I spent over 20 years of my professional career working on water policy issues at the federal level, as congressional staff and at the Department of the Interior and national environmental organizations. My work experience involved significant leadership roles, including as the director of a federal agency, as vice president of a national environmental organization, and as staff director of a congressional committee. In addition to this work experience, I have served as a volunteer on environmental issues and water policy in particular for the last twenty years in Arlington County and the City of Alexandria. I chaired Arlington's Environment and Energy Conservation Commission, served on Alexandria's Park and Recreation Commission, and now co-chair the Alexandria-Arlington Joint Task Force on Four Mile Run. With specific relevance to AlexRenew, I have served for the last 4 years on various stakeholder groups advising on AlexRenew's RiverRenew project -- first as a representative from the Park and Recreation Commission and more recently as a representative of the Carlyle/Eisenhower East community. I've also provided volunteer support for local river conservation work, now serving on the board of the Potomac Conservancy. My work on the RiverRenew project has given me a greater perspective on the responsibilities of AlexRenew, and I believe that my combined background in water policy, organizational management and local government advisory organizations gives me a broad range of skills that I could bring to the AlexRenew board. I would relish the opportunity to address the challenge of providing an essential community utility service while maintaining reasonable cost and ensuring adequate public communication and input.

Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

Thank you for considering my application for service on the Alexandria Renew Board of Directors. I have lived in Alexandria for almost 9 years, and throughout that time, I have been continually impressed by the professionalism and integrity of the agencies and utilities that work together to make our City a fantastic place to live. I would be honored to contribute to that shared spirit of excellent public service by applying my professional expertise to the AlexRenew Board. I am a nationally recognized expert in wastewater and stormwater policy with over a decade of experience advocating for cleaner waterways and better water infrastructure in communities across the country. At the Natural Resources Defense Council, I lobby for enhanced federal funding for wastewater and stormwater utilities, develop policies to ensure that water and sewer service is affordable for all people regardless of income, and advocate for the adoption of workable legal solutions to bring wastewater and stormwater systems into compliance with the Clean Water Act. Additionally, prior to my current focus on federal advocacy, I spent several years representing NRDC in a leadership role with the Choose Clean Water Coalition, an alliance of 200 environmental organizations advocating to clean up the Chesapeake Bay. As a result, I have a strong understanding of how Bay restoration policies – alongside local water quality goals – drive regulatory requirements for wastewater treatment plants and other dischargers. Like many Alexandrians, I'm excited about the transformational RiverRenew project that will reduce combined sewer overflows and accelerate the revitalization of the Potomac riverfront. I would love to contribute to that effort through service on the AlexRenew Board. Thanks to my experience in environmental advocacy, I understand the significance of this project both for our City's ecosystems and for the economic benefits a healthier Potomac River will generate. However, I'm also passionate about the less-publicized routine work of providing well-run and affordable sanitation services to our community. Operations and maintenance aren't as sensational as a massive tunnel boring machine, but those activities need robust support in order to keep our wastewater system running smoothly. If selected for this position, I would bring this enthusiasm for the nuts and bolts of utility oversight to the Board. I'd also be thrilled to serve as a messenger to the public who can communicate the great work that AlexRenew is doing. Perhaps most importantly, I would also contribute a focus on environmental and social justice that I believe is currently underrepresented on the Board. Many families across the City struggle to afford their wastewater bills, and I believe we can do more as a community to ensure that no one loses access to safe sanitation due to an inability to pay. I would appreciate the chance to help balance the Board's perspectives on environmental, social, and financial concerns and keep Alexandria the thriving, healthy community we all love.

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND (Please list certificates, diplomas, degrees, seminars, etc.):

• Harvard College, A.B. magna cum laude in Latin American Studies, 2006 • Harvard Law School, J.D., 2009 • Bar Admissions: New York, 2010; District of Columbia, 2010

SUMMARY OF WORK AND PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE (Please list titles and duties for the past five years):

I have worked as an attorney at the Natural Resources Defense Council since 2009. In the past five years, I have held the following titles: Staff Attorney (2014-2017), Senior Attorney (2017-2018), and currently Senior Attorney & Deputy Director of Federal Water Policy (2018-present). NRDC is a national nonprofit environmental organization. At NRDC, my duties center around federal advocacy for strong legal protections for waterways and enhanced water infrastructure funding. My goals are to ensure safe, well-functioning sanitation in all communities and affordable water and sewer bills that allow families to maintain reliable access to these essential public services. In recent years I have also engaged deeply in clean water advocacy at the regional level in the Chesapeake Bay watershed (including in Virginia and the District of Columbia). I am a legal and policy specialist in matters relating to Clean Water Act permitting, green infrastructure, stormwater pollution, combined sewer overflows (CSOs), federal water infrastructure financing, water affordability policy, and climate resilience. Over the years I have developed a strong familiarity with regulatory requirements (such as the Clean Water Act, Virginia Pollutant Discharge Elimination System permits, the Chesapeake Bay total maximum daily load, and CSO consent decrees and long-term control plans) as well as funding and financing programs (including the Clean Water State Revolving Fund and Low-Income Household Water Assistance Program) that are relevant to service on the Alexandria Renew Board of Directors. In my current role, I represent NRDC in coalitions and before legislative bodies, administrative agencies, and courts, while working in partnership with community leaders and small businesses. I testified before Congress last year about legislative proposals to promote sustainable wastewater and stormwater infrastructure, and I regularly work with local and national media outlets to bring attention to water infrastructure issues. I have published white papers and law review articles on stormwater policy, water infrastructure financing programs, and the Clean Water Act. Finally, the more administrative aspects of my work at NRDC have provided me with experience managing budgets, contracts, and consultants, which are important functions of AlexRenew Board members.

Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

I am personally committed to the success of Alexandria's solution to combined sewer overflow problem, known as the River Renew program. The success of River Renew will require knowledge, stability and involvement from Alexandria Renew's board of directors – I would like to contribute to that in the following ways: Knowledge – I have been on the board since early 2012 and chairman since 2014. I am very familiar with Alexandria Renew's organization, the wastewater treatment process, the relationships with the City and Fairfax counties, the rate-setting process and the technical challenge of the tunneling project. Because of my finance background -- I have particularly deep knowledge of the rate-setting process and how Alexandria Renew does long-range revenue and expense modeling. The board has managed to keep rate increases reasonable and predictable since I have been on the board. I want to apply that knowledge to ensure the costs of the tunneling project have the fairest and least disruptive impact on rates. Stability – The next few years will be critical for Alexandria Renew. The construction at the outfall sites will be most active and tunnel boring will be underway; at the same time, a new CEO will be installed. At this critical moment, it is essential that the leadership of the board remain stable and unwavering. Over the past few years, I have strived for genuine teamwork and harmony among the leadership team. During the recent recruitment of the new CEO, I made a special effort to engage all board members to ensure unanimity in the ultimate selection. After months of evening and weekend meetings – the board is more collaborative and team-oriented than ever. Harmony among the board is also evidenced by the fact that virtually all board votes are unanimous. There is never conflict between the CEO and the board, and board attendance is near 100% -- it is rare that a board member misses a meeting. In simple terms – we get along well as a team and appreciate the unique perspective that each member brings. Involvement – The River Renew program and the installation of the new CEO will require that board members commit considerably more time to Alexandria Renew and the community. Being a board member has always required more than a few hours per week – and the workload will increase as the River Renew project becomes even more visible to Alexandrians. For the past few years, I have dedicated more than ten hours per week to Alexandria Renew. In addition to the monthly board meetings, I visit the plant weekly to chat with the CEO and staff, and walk by all four River Renew construction sites to see “first hand” their impact on neighboring homes and businesses. I attend multiple civic association meetings, and now serve on the new Ad Hoc Stormwater Group to better understand how the various water-related projects (both Alexandria Renew and City government) appear to Alexandria residents. I write articles for local papers and attend all public sessions related to water-related topics. I gladly do this – and have motivated other board members to do the same. I believe the board should be visible to the ratepayers as the work of Alexandria Renew becomes more tangible. Working with the other board members in 2014, I helped draft Alexandria Renew's vision for 2040. We envisioned Alexandria Renew as an effective partner with other watershed stakeholders, such as the City of Alexandria, to promote the health of the Potomac. The River Renew program is one big step toward that vision. I want to contribute to that in every way that I can.

SUMMARY OF WORK AND PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE (Please list titles and duties for the past five years):

My entire 40-year career has involved the application of management science to the administration of large public programs. 2022. Senior Advisor to Commissioner of the Fiscal Service. Responsible for developing strategic plan and related initiatives regarding the modernization of Treasury's fiscal operations. Part-time as re-employed federal retiree. 2016-2021. Assistant Commissioner for Financial Innovation and Transformation, Fiscal Service, U.S. Treasury Department. Responsible for applying advanced technology (e.g. blockchain, data analytics, robotics, real-time payments, etc.) to improve the financial management of the federal government. (Since April 2020, I have been on temporary assignment to support the disbursement of hundreds of billions of dollars in pandemic relief funding under the CARES Act, CRRSA, and the American Rescue Plan.) 2012- 2016. Assistant Commissioner for Payments and Chief Disbursing Officer of the United States, Fiscal Service, U.S. Treasury Department. Responsible for the payment and accounting of $4 trillion annually by Treasury. Led innovations that resulted in 95% electronic payments. I have worked on large fiscal programs since returning to Treasury in 2009 to work on the government's response to the financial crisis. Prior to that, I was Executive Vice President of a mid-sized software company (Computech, Inc) and held a variety of operations and technical positions in IT at the US Customs Service, other Treasury bureaus, New York State government and a "Big 8" accounting firm. Of interest: I was an engineering intern for wastewater treatment at the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission in 1975.

Yes No

If yes, please explain

I served on the Alexandria Commission on Employment (ACE), ultimately becoming Chair. ACE's mandate is to develop a consistent, compelling message and increase visibility for the city's Workforce Development Center (WDC). They connect the local business community with individuals in search of employment. Through ACE, I developed connections with many City of Alexandria governing bodies, including the City Council. I am also currently on the Boards of The Campagna Center and the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce.

Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

My company, Business Management Associates, Inc (BMA), is working with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) to support their infrastructure projects as stipulated in the Build Back Better Infrastructure Act. As Alex Renew is currently working through an intricate infrastructure building process, I believe that I can not only learn more about infrastructure but will be able to introduce Alex Renew to potential mandates and innovations that are under consideration with DOE.
