TDFP | Step TOURISM DEVELOPMENT PLAN

Localities that are interested in pursuing the financing will need to submit a Tourism Development Plan which will be reviewed and certified by the Virginia Tourism Corporation (VTC). The Tourism Development Plan submitted can be an existing plan already adopted by a locality, or a plan can be created using VTC's Tourism Development Plan website.

The purpose of the plan is to (1) outline the specific void the proposed project will fill; (2) provide accurate representations of a locality's current tourism product and assets, infrastructure, marketing efforts and visitor profiles; and (3) show the return on investment the proposed project will have to the local tourism economy.

» Confidential + Proprietary Information «

If confidentiality of any information is necessary and applicable while exploring the eligibility of your proposed tourism development project with VTC, you must mark the information as "confidential and proprietary records." This includes print, audio and video information shared with Virginia Tourism Corporation via email, email attachments, standard delivery or courier. » § 2.2-3705.6 (3)

Please note that ownership of information and documentation submitted to the Virginia Tourism Corporation (VTC) either during preliminary discussions or as part of a Tourism Development Financing Program application constitute public records under the Virginia Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and shall be subject to public disclosure in accordance with FOIA. Proprietary information and documentation submitted by an applicant shall not be subject to public disclosure under FOIA. To prevent disclosure, however, the applicant must specifically identify the information or documentation to be protected. Public records that VTC determines are not proprietary will be subject to public disclosure under FOIA, even if marked as confidential by the applicant.

SECTION 1: PROPOSED DEFICIENCY

1-A What deficiency exists in your local tourism economy?

The major challenge for Alexandria's tourism economy is our recent reduction in hotel room supply. The loss of hotel rooms is largely a result of the booming residential real estate market. With low interest rates and increasing post-Covid migration from urban centers to suburban communities, the demand for residential housing in Northern Virginia is causing many hotel property owners to convert their properties to residential. As a result of these conversions, Alexandria's hotel base dropped 17% in the past two years.

A second challenge is the Average Daily Rate. While Alexandria has some upscale properties (Westin, Hilton, Morrison House, Alexandrian, Indigo, and Lorien), we do not have any hotel entries in the luxury category. This proposed development would fill a void in the market and in turn, increase City revenues by increasing our Average Daily Rate.

Finally, Alexandria would benefit from more hotel meeting space in Old Town. Our largest conference hotel, the Hilton Mark Center, is located on the City's West End, a 20-minute drive from Old Town. Within Old Town, Alexandria has only three properties that can accommodate a large meeting (200+)—the Westin, the Hilton Old Town and Holiday Inn & Suites. Despite the walkable and historic downtown that many meeting planners and their attendees are seeking, Alexandria loses mid-size meetings to adjacent localities like Arlington, VA and National Harbor, MD.

1-B Provide the data supporting the deficiency in your Locality's comprehensive community plans and project-related market studies

According to STR, the leading national source for hotel rate and occupancy data, Alexandria lost 5 hotels in the past two years and our room count fell from 4,430 in July 2018 to 3,670 in July 2020. The Average Daily Rate in our last complete non-Covid year (FY19) was $147 which is well below Washington, DC at $221 and Arlington, VA at $165. And we are only slightly higher than Prince George's County, MD and Fairfax County, VA at $134 and $130 respectively.

Additional market assessment and competitive analysis can be found in Exhibit A— "Visit Alexandria FY 2021 Operating Plan Situation Analysis". This analysis predates the Covid-19 pandemic and provides a relevant assessment of Alexandria's future environment once a coronavirus vaccine or effective treatment is widely distributed, and the hospitality sector rebounds.

1-C Provide the data supporting the deficiency in your Developer's specific market study

- * For the above, please highlight the specific data proving the deficiency
- * The data should include an inventory of similar tourism product and visitor demand indicators
- * If lodging, include number, name, proximity, service level & pricing of existing, local lodging

In the recent HVS market study (Attached on page 8), the tables indicate demand for higher-end hospitality that will surpass pre-Covid levels in 2022-2023 and point to continued growth thereafter. Targeted for delivery in the 2023 timeframe, the Project will be well-positioned to capture this demand.

The HVS market study also includes (page 5 & 6) both existing primary and secondary competitors, future anticipated new hotel deliveries, as well as the approximate prior occupancy levels achieved among the competitive set.

1-D Provide information supporting the Developer's need for State and Local gap financing?

* Include information citing the specific financial need for TDFP and potential project termination without TDFP

Prior to Covid-19 and more so in recent months following the virus outbreak, investors and developers of hospitality projects have generally targeted stabilized yields of 10% or greater on total project costs. As currently budgeted, and in the absence of alternative financing to offset anticipated costs, the Project's anticipated operating profits at stabilization indicate a yield between 6.5% and 7.0%, which is far below the necessary capital to attract investment to the Project.

1-E Briefly describe the overall scope of your project and how it fills your proven deficiency?

Constructed in 1925 and listed in the National Register of Historic Places, the Project was built as the George Mason Hotel located one block away from the bustling intersection of King Street and Washington Street in the heart of Alexandria's Old Town neighborhood. The developer of this project is J River 699 Prince Street, LLC (parent company of this owning partnership is D.C. based May Riegler) and will be managed by Aparium Hotel Group.

The hotel will be a complete and comprehensive rehabilitation of the existing historic building (Building 1), not currently operating in any capacity, which most recently served as an office for the Center of Missing and Exploited Children for over twenty years.

Furthermore, the development will include a new 4-story hotel structure (Building 2) on the site of the adjacent parking garage. Collectively the Project will be known as the Heron Hotel Old Town and will feature a total of 134-keys, 30,000 square feet of amenity and meeting space as well as ground floor retail. Building 1 will serve as the main hotel building with 92 rooms, and include the hotel's main lobby, a full-service restaurant, a speakeasy bar, meeting rooms, library, fitness center and rooftop restaurant and bar. Building 2 will serve accessory hotel functions and will include an additional 42 rooms, a grand ballroom, catering kitchen, event storage, loading dock and will have a canopy connecting to Building 1.

Conveniently located near major retail and dining corridors, transit, and both existing and planned employment and innovation hubs, the Project is ideally situated and well positioned to deliver an exceptional experience that exceeds the demands of executive and experience-oriented travelers. Furthermore, this project development is reinforced by demand given there are no other hotels in the luxury category scheduled for development in the near future.

1-F What is the total capital investment of the development project?

The project's $69.6M* (includes building sale) anticipated cost will be capitalized with approximately $45.2M (65% loan-to-cost) senior construction financing, and approximately $10.27M of net historic tax credit proceeds. The remaining $14.13M will be funded through a combination of TDFP proceeds and investor capital.

1-G What is the estimated, total gap financing amount requested for the project? $6,073,000

2-B What are the major lures and drivers that attract tourists to your area?

What are the major attractions, activities and experiences that draw visitors to your area?

Our major attraction in the City of Alexandria is the historic section of Old Town for which we are best known and most visited. The walkable downtown features a blend of red brick, gas lamp residential streets with colonial architecture, the Potomac riverfront, and historic museums, all anchored by a mile-long King Street corridor that hosts hundreds of shops, restaurants, and attractions.

Key supporting Alexandria attractions include the Torpedo Factory Art Center, Mount Vernon, District of Columbia museums and monuments, Black History Trail, Aslin and Port City breweries, Lost Boy cidery, East Coast Greenway bike trail, and the eclectic art deco Del Ray neighborhood.

Visit Alexandria's most recent Website Effectiveness study conducted by Destination Analysts asked visitors about the factors that caused them to select Alexandria for their trip. At the top of the list was Walkability, cited by 68% of respondents. Also critical were: Proximity to DC (60%), History (54%), Clean & Safe (52%), Dining (50%), Architecture (48%), Accessibility and Public Transit (46%) and Waterfront (45%).

All these strengths are closely aligned with the "Old Town"—the most commonly used Google search term driving traffic to our Visit Alexandria website. Though Visit Alexandria represents and promotes all of Alexandria, Old Town is brand is core to generating increased visitation for the entire city.

2-C What is your UNIQUE factor? What sets you apart from the competition? Unique by definition:

- The only one; without a like or equal; distinctively characteristic; atypical or unusual

What makes your destination truly different? Is it a particular attraction, historical location, cultural experience, social, ethnic or religious center or a geographical element different than that of a neighboring locale? Or is it a combination of the aforementioned?

The readers of Conde Nast Traveler have selected Alexandria as one of the Top 5 Small Cities in America for 3 years in a row. Only Charleston, S.C. and Santa Fe, N.M. can say the same. Why are we in such good company?

In a competitive environment where many destinations are investing heavily in tourism marketing to compete for market share, each entity must bring out its unique attributes to differentiate itself. For Alexandria that strength is the combined qualities as a historic city within proximity of the nation's capital. While there are many other small, charming, historic towns along the east coast and several suburbs closer to DC, Alexandria is the only place that possesses both.

2-D Who is your major competition?

Is there a particular region, community, attraction or travel experience that is your primary competition? How many other destinations have similar factors within 5-0-100-150+ miles?

In the immediate market, Alexandria's direct competitors are Arlington County, Fairfax County, and in the District of Columbia: The Wharf, Capitol Waterfront, Georgetown, and across the Potomac river in Maryland: National Harbor. Arlington and Fairfax Counties compete based on proximity to Washington DC and Reagan National and Dulles International airports. The various Washington DC neighborhoods perform well as high-end retail and restaurant districts, with strong Business Improvement Districts (BID). The Wharf has risen to the top of our competitive set with its $2.5 billion investment and market positioning modeled more closely after Alexandria's. Maryland's National Harbor also continues to thrive as a self-contained destination with a casino resort, conference center, large hotel, outlet shopping, and waterfront dining.

Washington DC's strengths are its monuments and museums, downtown, restaurants, proximity to government, and increasingly so, its neighborhoods. Its weaknesses are congestion, expense, and perceptions regarding safety issues. Farther afield, we identify these direct competitors: Annapolis, MD, Richmond, VA, Williamsburg, VA, Charlottesville, VA, Philadelphia, PA, Charleston, SC and Savannah, GA. Most of these are smaller cities with a sense of place, history, amenities, and walkability. They tend to be more isolated however, and lack our proximity to Washington, DC and its attractions.

From a global perspective, destinations around the world have discovered the importance of tourism as a driver of quality of life, jobs, and tax revenues. As more places invest in tourism, global competition has become more intense, and our individual share erodes over a wider supply. In this fast-changing landscape, tourism marketing has become more sophisticated and competitive, so it is critical to reinforce our distinguishing and unique advantages and maintain our marketing investment.

Finally, it is worth noting that perhaps our ultimate competition is not from another travel destination, but from Americans' reluctance to take time for vacation out of concern that they will fall behind at work or seem less committed to their employers. In 2017, 52% of Americans left vacation time on the table and forfeited $62 billion in vacation time--an average of 2 days/person donated back to their employers with a value of $561/person. Moreover, of the average 17.2 vacation days/person taken, only 8 were used on travel. Nationally, it is critical to grow the size of the overall market, which is why the U.S. Travel Association started the "Project Time Off" campaign in 2014, encouraging Americans to use their allotted vacation time. This advocacy campaign is gaining national attention, and is starting to pay dividends, as the number of annual vacation days taken by the average American has risen from 16.0 to 17.2 in the last three years. Visit Alexandria will continue to support the campaign as part of the industry's joint effort to grow the overall pie, not just our individual slice. With our proximity to major population centers, we are well positioned for quick getaways and long weekends.

3-D Gauge your TOP 3 Strengths, Weakness, Opportunities and Threats

S.W.O.T. analysis is a process that identifies the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats of an organization. Specifically, SWOT is a basic, straightforward model that assesses what an organization can and cannot do as well as its potential opportunities and threats. The method of SWOT analysis is to take the information from an environmental analysis and separate it into internal (strengths and weaknesses) and external issues (opportunities and threats). Once this is completed, SWOT analysis determines what may assist the organization in accomplishing its objectives, and what obstacles must be overcome or minimized to achieve desired results.

Strengths

Obvious natural priorities

- Likely to produce greatest ROI (Return On Investment)
- Likely to be guickest and easiest to implement
- Probably justifying immediate action-planning or feasibility study

Weaknesses

Potentially attractive options

- Likely to produce good returns if capability and implementation are viable
- Potentially more exciting and stimulating and rewarding than S/O due to change, challenge, surprise tactics, and benefits from addressing and achieving improvements

Threat

Easy to defend and counter

- Only basic awareness, planning, and implementation required to meet these challenges
- Investment in these issues is generally safe and necessary

Opportunity

Potentially high risk

- Assessment of risk crucial
- Where risk is low then we must ignore these issues and not be distracted by them
- Where risk is high we must assess capability gaps and plan to defend/avert in very specific controlled ways

TOP 3 STRENGTHS - Characteristics of community or area that give it an advantage over others

- 1. Old Town—Our vibrant historic downtown & the Potomac River waterfront location create a hub of walkable activity including hundreds of restaurants, boutiques, attractions, and hotels.
- 2. Transportation—Alexandria is easily accessible by interstate, Metro, Reagan National Airport, Amtrak, bike path, bike share, a free King Street trolley, and the Water Taxi. This multimodal approach increases our value as a central location to easily explore the region and is a magnet for regional residents and visitors who can get here quickly. It also serves to mitigate the perception of traffic congestion associated with the Washington DC beltway.
- 3. Proximity—Alexandria is not only a destination in and of itself, it is also proximate to Washington DC (20 minutes), Mount Vernon (15 minutes), Reagan National Airport (5 minutes) and National Harbor (5 minutes).

TOP 3 WEAKNESSES - Characteristics that place your community or area at a disadvantage relative to others

- 1. Traffic—As noted above, as a part of the greater Washington DC Metro and inside the Beltway, there is a perception of traffic that lingers despite improvements.
- 2. Convention center—Although Alexandria has some conference hotels, there is no major convention center attracting large conventions that can help fill multiple adjacent hotels. The closest major convention centers are located in National Harbor and Washington DC, which still creates incremental business during citywide or sell-out conventions.
- 3. Luxury Brand—Alexandria has 23 hotels, almost all of them affiliated with a national chain, but we currently have no high-end luxury hotel that would cater to C-suite executives and wealthy leisure visitors.

TOP 3 OPPORTUNITIES - External chances to achieve greater success and profits in your industry

- 1. Amazon HQ2/Virginia Tech Innovation Campus—New hub for business and innovation with the entry of Amazon and Virginia Tech at National Landing. In addition to 25,000 new jobs at Amazon, we anticipate strong secondary effects on supporting business development and the future technology hub at Virginia Tech Innovation campus.
- 2. Black History Trail—Building on our reputation of historical significance, there is a wealth of African American heritage that extends over three centuries from the Revolution through Civil War to Civil Rights. We are now weaving those historical assets together in the Black History Trail with contemporary black owned businesses to attract not just African Americans, but all Americans during a time of increasing racial awareness.
- 3. The Leadership Collection™—New partnership organized and promoted by Visit Alexandria. Unifies under The Leadership Collection™ brand 3 national leadership programs all located inside Alexandria—George Washington Leadership Institute at Mount Vernon, McChrystal Group, and Building Momentum.

TOP 3 THREATS - External elements in the environment that could cause trouble for business or community

- 1. COVID-19—The current pandemic is severely impacting the hospitality community and is our primary threat. Our FY21 marketing plans are all directed at mitigating the impact of COVID-19.We continue marketing to attract all available near-term revenue (largely within a 3-hour drive radius), maintain brand awareness and build a foundation for recovery once the vaccine becomes widely distributed.
- 2. Political Environment—The country's recent political polarization has negatively impacted Washington, DC's attractiveness as a place to learn about the nation's government and history. Additionally, two recent government shutdowns in the past 4 years demonstrate our vulnerability when government-related business travel is impacted during periods of political gridlock. As a satellite of Washington DC, there are ripple effects in Alexandria.
- 3. Competitive Entry—The recent arrival of Amazon HQ2 will likely also attract increased development and commercial investment in adjacent areas such as Arlington, VA and Washington, DC. Additionally, we expect secondary restaurant and retail spinoff in National Landing that will generate new competition for Alexandria.

What is a Marketing Plan?

A marketing plan is an official, adopted plan by which an organization or community can maximize its tourism potential. It answers key questions which provide direction for a community's tourism marketing activities. A marketing plan brings together an organization's research, particular goals, measurable objectives, brand ideals and other important considerations in one concise, executable directive.

Key questions a marketing plan can include are:

- Summary and Introduction Who are we?
- Marketing Objectives
 What are we trying to accomplish?
 What measurable outcome do we want?
- Situation Analysis
 What are we trying to achieve?

- Target Markets
 Who is our audience or customer?
- Strategies and Tactics
 What vehicles will we use?
 What messages will we use?
- Tracking and Evaluation
 How will we measure our success?

A marketing plan:

- o Allows an organization to look internally to fully understand the impact and results of past marketing
- o Allows the organization to look externally to fully understand the market in which it chooses to compete
- o Sets future goals and provides direction that everyone in the organization should understand and support

 IMPORTANT **

In your Marketing Plan, please include a statement or brief description on how the aspects of your new development project will be included with, but also enhance your current marketing plan. Mention how the new product you are developing {i.e. guest rooms, meeting space, dining, sports venues, etc.} will enhance the visitor experience, amenities for locals, have a positive impact on surrounding tourism businesses and support regional tourism efforts .

Your marketing plan will have the following results:

Annual Marketing Budget *Not including salaries, benefits or fixed costs	$1,882,000
Visitation increased by	8%
Tourist expenditures increased by* FY20 actual ($58M) vx FY21 actual ($59M) - but still below pre-COVID levels FY19 ($66M)	1%
Visitor Satisfaction increased by *between FY20 and FY21	6.6%
Number of partnership participants in your marketing plan

^{*} Because of the impact of Covid-19, we are attaching three marketing plans. Our Fiscal Year 2021 and 2022 Plans are geared toward operating in and recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic. As such it is a highly adaptive, nimble plan, designed not necessarily around seasonality, but around changing market conditions as peaks and valleys impact travel intentions.

The Fiscal Year 2020 Plan is more of our traditional marketing plan that reflects our long-term approach to marketing pre-COVID, and to which we would expect to return to post-COVID once an effective vaccine is in place that allows Americans and international travelers to visit our City. – Visit Alexandria

2021 WATERFRONT PUBLIC ART: GROUNDSWELL

Temporary Public Art Installation by Mark Reigelman Late March to November 2021 Waterfront Park, 1 King Street

Groundswell, the 2021 temporary public art installation from Brooklyn-based artist Mark Reigelman, will be on display at Waterfront Park in Old Town Alexandria in from March to November 2021 as the third installation in the City of Alexandria's "Site See: New Views in Old Town" annual public art series. Groundswell brings an element of play to Alexandria's changing shoreline with a ground mural depicting the floor of the Potomac River and more than 100 wood pliings topped with etched blue mirrors that shimmer like water. The installation was inspired by Alexandria's history going back to the 18th century when drastic measures began to manipulate the city's shoreline. Thousands of wood pilings were driven further into the Potomac River over time, thereby snifting the city's waterfront over decades. This allowed Alexandria to develop and grow its sprawling dock into a major commercial port.

Get to Know Groundswell

Each pilling is 14 inches in diameter and topped with a cobalt blue, mirrored surface etched with tree growth rings that suggest the passing of time. They glisten in the light like the nearby water, reflecting the sky and the faces of passersby.

More than 100 timber pilings range in heights from 12 to 42
