Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

I love Alexandria. Having grown up in Calvert County, MD where most of my family were farmers, I see Alexandria as a real city - a quaint, socially active, and beautiful city. I love walking my dogs in the many parks, along the waterfront, and through the streets. We (I) love seeing the beautiful displays that residents and businesses put out in windows, on sidewalks, etc. There is so much development going on within the community that I want to help to ensure that the city maintains its unique charm. Also, I am an avid gardener and get compliments on my front of house plantings. On the other side, as a meeting planner I want to see the city maintain its charm to attract meeting business to the area, while also moving forward with new plans for expansion. Sounds corny, but I just love this city and want to see it keep its charm and be as beautiful as possible.

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

I have an active role in many different areas within Alexandria relating to the arts. Some examples include regularly volunteering at Upcycle Creative Reuse Center, which is an organization that re-purposes donated crafting materials, and taking various art related classes at Alexandria City High School, including Art and Ceramics. I am also interested in continuing my involvement with the arts in college and my career, so I have a unique perspective on the resources that are available and lacking in helping students pursue the arts.

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

Hello. Thank you for taking the time to review my application. I have begun observing the work of The Commission on Employment. I am only two meetings in and feel the group aligns with my experience and passion for people and their work. I am hopeful I can find ways to help this group and our city whether it is serving on this board and/or in another volunteer capacity. As a 23 year resident of Alexandria and a 25 year Human Resources professional in the area my hope would be you could leverage my service and experience as a resource to The Commission on Employment.. My passion is ensuring people love the work they do. That passion can be seen in the work I have done to lead Human Resources for The Motley Fool as the Chief People Officer here in Alexandria for the last 23 years. The Motley Fool was founded in Alexandria in 1993 and is one of the city's largest employers. We have a culture and workplace recognized as one of the best places to work in America. Through the years I have hired and supported hundreds of Alexandrians either locally or relocating new residents here. I have volunteered as a coach and ESL teacher here in town. Currently I am a regular server at The Carpenter Shelter and supporter of the local organization Together We Bake. I feel I have more I can give to the city I love. This great group seems to be focussed in an area I feel I have service to provide and I know I have deep caring - getting people into a job they love. In 2011 Gallup released their book The Coming Jobs War which highlighted the findings of their most extensive worldwide survey ever. What they found was a universal truth in the world, "What everyone in the world wants is a good job." Jobs define us in society today. People want to be proud of the work they do. They want to be challenged and seen as an earner by their family. Whether it is one person at a time or our company of 625 I want to help as many people as possible reach the goal of finding a good job. The changes happening in the world of work are unlike any I have seen in my career, even surpassing the influence of the internet in the late 90s. We have such an amazing city and offer so much opportunity. I would be a proud member of the Commission on Employment working to navigate the new world of work if you will have me.
