To Mr. James Spencer, Chair, and to Members of the Board of Architectural Review

Regarding the proposed changes to 101 Queen Street:

We own the adjacent home, at 103 Queen Street. We fully support the plans of the applicants at 101 Queen Street, Jill and Sean Milliken, to replace their windows and to enlarge some of those windows on N. Union Street. We have no objection to their plans to paint the brick exterior of their home a creamy white, which would be in keeping with neighboring homes on North Union Street.

All of the Milliken's proposed changes would be a nice addition to the neighborhood.

With best regard,

Kathy and Charlie Allegrone

Mr. James Spencer, Chair
Members of the Board of Architectural Review

Good afternoon to you all, I am delighted to support the proposed exterior modifications that Sean and Jill Milliken are considering for their home at 101 Queen Street. The changes being proposed are perfect and will make their already lovely home even more beautiful and will seamlessly fit in with our neighborhood.

As the neighbor directly across from them at 100 Queen, I am most supportive of the Milliken's desire to paint the exterior brown brick to a warm white color. That alone will be a stunning enhancement and I sincerely hope the BAR will agree with the Milliken's and their neighbors and allow all the changes they are pursuing. Thank you for your consideration. Cindy Moran

Dear Chair Spencer and Members of the Architectural Review Board,

We are writing to express our support for the Millikens' planned renovations at 101 Queen Street. We believe updated exterior windows and a lighter house color will enhance the appearance of their home and the entrance to Queen Street. We have no objections to painted brick, particularly in a warm white color. Please feel free to reach out to us if you have questions.

Best regards,

Caterina and John Littleton
