I have been a member of the Commission on Information Technology since March, 2020, and currently serve as the Vice Chair.

Interests & Experiences

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

I've been a member of the Commission on Information Technology for nearly 3 years, and I'm so proud of the work that the group has done over this time. Eager to serve in a greater capacity, I was honored to be selected as Vice Chair of the Commission a few months ago. We've done excellent work on the Commission recently and the collaboration with the city's ITS department has been fantastic. I want to continue serving the city in this volunteer advisory role to ensure that broadband expansion is done in an equitable manner, to promote competition in communications and IT services opportunities, and generally to serve as a sounding board when any unique issues arise under the city's purview. I've been working as a telecommunications/IT attorney for nearly 10 years and have lived in Alexandria that entire time. I regularly provide counsel to end user purchasers -- never service providers -- on telecommunications and IT procurements and negotiations as well as on telecommunications and technology regulatory and policy issues. I previously worked at the FCC in the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau, and currently represent telecom end users in various proceedings at the Commission on matters concerning federal regulatory compliance. I've also advised users on state-level regulations and policy development. Primarily, my work entails negotiating enterprise telecommunications and technology agreements for internet access, custom networks, wireless service, managed services, collocation, and software, as well as technology and business outsourcing agreements. My work has proven useful in serving the IT Commission, particularly when it comes to contracting and procurement questions. I'd be honored to continue volunteering my time to serve the city through the IT Commission.

Statement of Interest/Why You Should Be Appointed

I've been an information technology professional for over a decade. In that time, I've done everything from maintaining and deploying PCs and networks, to writing scalable web applications. This broad experience gives me insight across the entire vertical technology stack, not just a narrow slice. Useful to this specific role, my IT skills have also overlapped with an interest in more civic-minded pursuits. In my last job at a tax policy think tank, I wrote interactive software to analyze and explain complex tax policies to ordinary taxpayers. I would be thrilled to contribute my years of experience to advise the city of Alexandria on how to best use technology to help my fellow citizens.

One responsibility of the Human Rights Commission (HRC) is to track whether the diversity in our City's population is reflected in appointments made to boards, commissions, committees and authorities; the HRC does this using only data supplied on this form. The HRC reports statistics only to Council.

The HRC's main role is to ensure discrimination does not occur in our city based on race, color, sex, religion, ancestry, national origin, marital status, familial status, age, sexual orientation or disability with respect to housing, employment, public accommodations, health and social services, education, credit or city contracts.
