Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
Dear Members of the Selection Committee, I am writing to express my interest in serving on the Alexandria Housing Affordability Advisory Committee. I am a retail employee in Alexandria, somehow qualify as low income, and am currently navigating the housing search myself. This personal experience is what most strongly motivates my desire to serve on this committee and to contribute meaningfully to discussions around housing affordability. Like many people who work in Alexandria's service and retail sectors, I am deeply connected to this city but face real challenges finding housing that is affordable, stable, and close to my place of employment. Experiencing the housing market firsthand—long waitlists, limited availability especially for First Time Home Buyer allotted units, and rising rents—has given me a clear understanding of how difficult it can be for working residents to remain in the community they help support every day. In addition to my own experience, my work has allowed me to support low-income and second-chance employees, many of whom face even greater barriers to housing due to income constraints or past challenges. I regularly see how housing instability affects employee retention, financial security, and overall well-being. These experiences have reinforced my belief that housing policy must reflect the realities faced by working people and those rebuilding their lives. I also serve on the Board of the Del Ray Business Association, where I am engaged with local business owners and community members on issues affecting our neighborhood's vitality and inclusivity. This role has helped me better understand how housing affordability, workforce stability, and small businesses are interconnected, and it has strengthened my commitment to collaborative, community-driven solutions. I would be honored to bring both my lived experience and my community involvement to the Housing Affordability Advisory Committee. I am eager to listen, learn, and contribute thoughtfully to policies that help ensure Alexandria remains a place where people of all incomes can live, work, and thrive. Thank you for your time and consideration. Annabell (Molly) Bivens

Educational Background

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
My entire career has focused on providing opportunities and access for young people. For the past six years, I have done this through my work at Genesys Works, a national workforce development organization. While I started in a fundraising focused on government grants, I now report directly to the CEO as his Chief of Staff. While the organization is national, we have a local office serving the National Capital Region. We partner closely with Alexandria City High School to recruit, train, and offer paid year-long internships to seniors (with two current working interns, and three from the previous academic year). We have gotten great candidates from the school, and the school champion Sarah Black is a hugely supportive partner. However, we are limited to serving more students in Alexandria due to our challenges in securing internship opportunities for them that are close enough geographically to school or the Metro. I would love to work with this commission to continue finding innovative ways to advance existing partnerships, or to secure new ones, to support all residents in accessing the training and opportunities that they deserve to reach full employment, thereby furthering Alexandria's community to reach its fullest potential.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
Through my work as an early-stage investor in AI technology and as a consultant for Universities in the US I have seen the economic forces stacking up against the marginalized population in the place I have loved to call home. As the workforce continues to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic and evolve with new technology impacting every industry I want to ensure that I devote as much attention and care as I am able to in my community. In serving as Treasurer to the Board for the Andrea C. Cameron foundation in Palm Beach, Fl I have supported the development of programming to provide clarity to students for their post-high-school future which includes alleviating the financial burden of higher education both for 4-year college/university as well as trade/vocation programs and military opportunities. In addition to education and career awareness for students I also developed a mentorship and internship program for scholarship recipients to help guide their career journey once they reach the end of the academic ladder. We have found that information is the most underrated resource to students in Palm Beach county and by finding innovative ways to work with young people we can help them generate confidence as they get ready to join the workforce. Additionally, my family has also been passionate about healthcare in the state of Virginia and my mother has worked closely with VCU to uplift the Richmond Health & Wellness Program via the Crystal Goodwin Engagement Fund. Through this exposure I have understood that health encompasses more than preventing disease through a healthy lifestyle but all aspects of wellness including access to nutritious food, physical fitness, financial literacy, mental health, education, employment, and a place to call home. It would be my honor to sit in a room of dedicated individuals ensuring that there is equitable access to all of these critical components of wellness here in Alexandria.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I am seeking appointment to the Economic Opportunities Commission because my professional and civic work has consistently focused on expanding economic opportunity, strengthening community voices, and translating complex systems into actionable policy insight. Across public finance, nonprofit governance, and civic engagement, I have worked at the intersection of data, policy, and people, precisely where the EOC plays its most important advisory role. My background includes more than six years administering public-sector operating and capital budgets for a major regional utility, where I supported long-term planning, cost controls, and transparency in resource allocation. This experience has given me a practical understanding of how funding decisions, infrastructure investments, and legislative priorities directly affect employment access, affordability, and service delivery for residents. I bring a data-informed lens to policy discussions, with an emphasis on equity, accountability, and measurable outcomes. In parallel, I have held senior leadership and governance roles within mission-driven nonprofit organizations, including serving as President and Treasurer of Thursday Network, the young professionals auxiliary of the Greater Washington Urban League. In these roles, I helped oversee financial strategy, manage six-figure budgets, grow organizational reserves, and support programs centered on workforce development, civic participation, and economic mobility. I recently served on the Executive Board of the Greater Washington Urban League, contributing to governance, financial oversight, and strategic planning for programs that directly address employment, housing stability, and access to opportunity. My earlier experience in political organizing and legislative support further grounds my interest in the EOC's advisory function. I have supported voter engagement initiatives, managed field operations, and worked within legislative environments that required translating community needs into policy priorities. These roles strengthened my ability to collaborate across stakeholders, communicate effectively with elected officials, and advocate for policies that reflect lived experience. As a resident who is deeply invested in Alexandria's future, I am motivated by the EOC's charge to advise City Council, the General Assembly, and Congress on policies that improve economic outcomes for low- and moderate-income residents. If appointed, I would bring a collaborative, research-driven approach; a strong grounding in public finance and nonprofit governance; and a clear commitment to centering equity in employment, housing, health care, and workforce development policy discussions. I view service on the Economic Opportunities Commission as both a responsibility and an opportunity to listen, analyze, and to help ensure that Alexandria's policies reflect the needs, dignity, and potential of all its residents.

Educational Background

Summary of Work and Experience
I bring over a decade of experience spanning public-sector finance, nonprofit governance, and political and civic engagement, with a consistent focus on advancing economic opportunity and institutional accountability. Professionally, I served for more than six years as a Budget Technician with WSSC Water, one of the largest public utilities in the region. In this role, I administered operating and capital budgets exceeding $1 million, supported long-term capital improvement planning, produced GFOA-standard financial reports, and contributed to strategic sourcing initiatives that generated more than $1.5 million in cost savings. This experience strengthened my understanding of how public dollars are allocated, the importance of fiscal stewardship, and how budgetary decisions impact service delivery and workforce stability. In the nonprofit sector, I have held senior leadership roles within the Greater Washington Urban League ecosystem, including Treasurer and President of Thursday Network, a 501(c)(3) young professionals auxiliary with more than 150 members. As Treasurer, I managed over $250,000 in revenue across grants, sponsorships, donations, and events, increased organizational reserves by 66.7%, and ensured strong financial controls and reporting. As President, I served on the Executive Committee of the Greater Washington Urban League Board and launched a formal Advisory Board pipeline to expand governance participation and leadership development. These roles provided direct experience with nonprofit oversight, community-based programming, fundraising, and board-level decision-making tied to employment, workforce development, and economic equity. My background also includes extensive experience in civic engagement and political operations. I have worked on local, state, and federal campaigns in roles including Campaign Manager, Field Organizer, and Legislative Assistant, where I supported voter engagement, policy research, coalition building, and constituent communication. I have led voter registration and turnout efforts, organized candidate forums, and worked with community organizations to increase civic participation, particularly in historically underserved communities. Collectively, my experience equips me to contribute meaningfully to the Economic Opportunities Commission by bringing a grounded understanding of public finance, workforce and nonprofit systems, legislative processes, and community advocacy. I am prepared to support the EOC’s advisory role with rigor, equity-centered analysis, and a collaborative approach focused on expanding opportunity for all citizens of Alexandria.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I am writing to share my interest in serving as a Representative for residents living in low-income communities on the Alexandria City Office of Economic Opportunities Commission. As an Alexandria resident who works directly with families facing financial challenges, I care deeply about the issues that affect our community and want to be part of the effort to make support systems more accessible and effective. In my work as a tax and accounting professional, I meet many individuals who are trying their best to navigate financial hardship, limited resources, and complicated government processes. I've seen the stress that these challenges create, and I've also seen how the right guidance, clear information, and fair policies can truly change a family's path. These experiences have shaped my commitment to helping people feel heard and supported, especially those who often feel overlooked. I hope to bring a practical and compassionate perspective to the Commission. With my background in financial literacy, tax representation, and community-focused work, I believe I can help highlight the real-world experiences and concerns of low-income residents. More importantly, I want to ensure that their voices are part of the conversations and decisions that impact them. It would be a privilege to serve and work alongside others who share the goal of building a stronger, more equitable Alexandria. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute in a meaningful way.

Summary of Work and Experience
I'm an accounting and tax professional with more than 20 years of experience helping individuals and businesses understand their finances, stay compliant, and make smarter decisions. Today, as a Co-Founder and Enrolled Agent at Global Tax Inc., I work closely with clients to guide them through tax planning, IRS matters, and the everyday financial challenges that come with running a business. I enjoy breaking down complex rules into simple explanations and finding practical solutions that support long-term stability and growth. Before launching Global Tax, I spent over a decade managing operations at GAM Professional Services LLC. During that time, I prepared hundreds of tax returns, supervised other preparers, and built strong relationships with clients who relied on me for quick, accurate guidance. I've also worked as a Staff Accountant in both the private and government-contracting sectors, handling reconciliations, financial reporting, and month-end close processes for companies like Hilton and Evoke Research & Consulting. My career began in auditing with Deloitte and Ernst & Young, where I learned the importance of good internal controls, clear documentation, and honest communication with clients. Those early years shaped the professional I am today—detail-oriented, analytical, and committed to doing things the right way. I'm an Enrolled Agent authorized to represent taxpayers before the IRS, and I'm currently pursuing my CPA license. Above all, I'm passionate about helping people feel confident and informed about their financial decisions, and I bring that approach to every client and every project I take on.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I am writing to express my strong interest in serving as a Broadcast and Print Media Representative on Alexandria's Local Emergency Planning Committee. My qualifications for this position stem from two distinct but complementary areas of experience: local media and emergency response. As a local news publisher, I understand the critical role that timely, accurate communication plays during emergencies. The Alexandria Brief is dedicated to keeping our community informed about issues that matter most to residents—and there are few issues more consequential than public safety and emergency preparedness. I am well-positioned to help the LEPC fulfill its mandate to distribute emergency plans and respond to citizen requests for information. My media platform and professional networks can serve as valuable channels for disseminating critical safety information to Alexandria residents. My six years as a volunteer firefighter and first responder give me firsthand understanding of emergency response protocols, incident command structures, hazardous materials awareness, and the on-the-ground realities of crisis situations. This experience allows me to bridge the gap between technical emergency planning discussions and clear, accessible public communication. I understand both what responders need from the public during emergencies and what the public needs to know to stay safe. Having called Alexandria home for over four years, I am deeply invested in this community's safety and resilience. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my skills and experience to the LEPC's important work in chemical hazard planning, emergency preparedness, and public education. I am fully able to commit to the quarterly meeting schedule and the approximately two hours per meeting required of committee members. Thank you for considering my application.

Statement of Interest (Do not include personal information such as phone numbers, addresses, emails, etc.)
I am committed to preparing Alexandria for changing climate that will shape its future. Because Alexandria is a low-lying river city, that future will be affected both by the rising level of the Potomac and stormwater overflows from the creeks that lace through our neighborhoods. Over the next decade, the City and AlexRenew will direct over a billion dollars of public investment toward water-related infrastructure. The Stormwater Advisory Committee is an important forum where Alexandria residents can ensure that funding is spent on the most urgent and effective infrastructure projects. In the past three years, the Advisory Committee has used objective facts and hard data to assess the progress of Alexandria's Flood Action program. Through its annual reports to City Council, the committee has helped to maintain public support for the program's ten-year construction schedule. I would like to stay on the committee as the big construction projects of the Flood Action program get underway.

Serving on the Stormwater Advisory Committee has been one of the most rewarding experiences I've had since moving to Alexandria. It has been incredible to watch as this board has grown from an idea to permanent status and to see in real time how all of the work has contributed to meaningful flooding solutions. But the job is large and we are far from finished - and I would like to continue on to see how much more we can accomplish. I'm also interested in revisiting policy initiatives that have been housed due to the previous administration in Richmond. Now that the legislature has shifted again, I feel like now is the time to push hard on flooding and stormwater initiatives in Richmond.

Have you ever served the City of Alexandria in any capacity?
Yes (Please explain), I have served on this board since it was founded.

Have you ever attended a meeting of the Board or Commission for which you are applying?
Yes
