

DISCUSSION: Previously, the Zoning Ordinance contained a definition of a kennel, which was a lot or premises on which four or more dogs, more than four (4) months of age, are kept or maintained for any purpose. This was removed from the Zoning Ordinance in 2016; but the prohibition on the limit to the number of dogs in the Animal Code was not addressed.

Residents have requested a change to the limit on the number of dogs permitted per dwelling unit; this increase will respond to that request. At the time that the Zoning Ordinance was enacted, and the 1995 passage of the code, there were no policy reasons listed for the limit to three dogs per household.

Staff considered the residents' request, and upon discussion of current limit and the impact of the proposed changes, concluded in support of an increase to five (5) dogs per dwelling unit. This increase will allow an owner to have more dogs without compromising Animal Control's ability to regulate the care and keeping of animals within the City. Alternative approaches based on animal weight or lot size present significant encumbrances in enforceability and are not recommended.

The increased limit will have no bearing on Animal Control's ability to intervene to prevent any animal harm or abuse as they already do.

FISCAL IMPACT: There is no anticipated fiscal impact associated with adopting these changes into the existing ordinance.
