City of Alexandria, Virginia

MEMORANDUM

DATE: MAY 17, 2017

TO: THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

FROM: MARK B. JINKS, CITY MANAGER /s/

DOCKET TITLE:

Consideration of a Resolution from the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board Regarding the Voluntary Rent Guidelines. [ROLL-CALL VOTE]

ISSUE: City Council consideration of a Resolution from the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board regarding Voluntary Rent Guidelines.

RECOMMENDATION: That City Council approve the attached Resolution (Attachment 1) establishing the City's 2017 Voluntary Rent Guidelines for maximum rent increases at a percentage of not more than 5% where the tenant pays utilities and not more than 7% where the owner pays utilities, as recommended by the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board. This would maintain the percentages recommended by the current guidelines.

BACKGROUND: Virginia localities are prohibited from enacting rent control. However, for over 30 years, the City has encouraged landlords to limit rent increases in accordance with the City's Voluntary Rent Guidelines, which are suggested maximum rent increases for existing tenants. These voluntary guidelines provide no enforcement authority against landlords who fail to comply with them as, under Virginia law, the City has no authority to place mandatory limits on rent increases.

The Landlord-Tenant Relations Board reviews the Guidelines annually and makes recommendations to City Council regarding their adequacy, and Council is then asked to adopt a voluntary rent guidelines resolution. In preparing its recommendations, the Board considers rent data, market forecasts and vacancy surveys by Delta Associates, a national real estate consulting firm, as well as data prepared by the Office of Housing in its annual apartment survey. The Office of Housing survey covers all rental complexes in the City with ten or more units. Delta Associates' survey is based on a representative sample of complexes in smaller area submarkets within the City, and distinguishes between "Class A" and "Class B" apartments. Delta's definition of Class A properties includes large properties built after 1988 with luxury amenities, and B properties are older properties with fewer amenities. The Board considers these data to formulate recommendations that will account for market trends without unduly burdening tenants. Table A in Attachment 2 illustrates average rents in the City based on survey data collected by the Office of Housing in January of each year. Table B in Attachment 2 reflects Delta Associates' year-end 2016 data.

DISCUSSION: The current guidelines for maximum rent increases are 5% if the tenant pays utilities and 7% if the landlord pays utilities. For the reasons stated below, this recommendation would not change the current guidelines.

Staff estimates that most landlords in the City are in compliance with the guidelines and staff is generally successful in mediating reduced increases when a tenant complains that a proposed increase is unduly burdensome. Not all cases mediated result in the landlord's full compliance with the guidelines, but staff is often able to mediate a lower increase to the tenant. In addition, the guidelines recognize and direct staff to consider unusual costs, capital improvements and major repairs to the property and an increase in the assessment of the property of more than 50%.

Alexandria's rental apartment market remains strong when compared to national trends. According to the Office of Housing's January 2017 survey, apartment vacancy Citywide increased from 3.96% to 4.33% from January 2016 to January 2017. Delta Associates' year-end report for 2016 also indicated increased rents in Alexandria, with a slight decrease in West Alexandria class B high rise properties. Delta data showed vacancy rates between .6% and 4.5%. Both the City and Delta Associates reported vacancy rates well below the national rental vacancy rate, which the U.S. Census Bureau reported was 6.9% in the fourth quarter of 2016.

The Office of Housing survey shows that citywide average rents for new tenants increased 6.8% from January 2016 to January 2017. Delta Associates' survey reported increases in all Alexandria submarkets in the fourth quarter of 2016. Although not part of this report, these increases have further reduced the number of market-affordable units to approximately 1288.

The Landlord-Tenant Relations Board considers it critical that the guidelines be reasonable and consistent with market conditions for landlords to comply and recommends increasing the percentages when market rent increases indicate a strong rental market. However, the purpose of the guidelines is to encourage property owners to keep increases reasonable for lease renewals for City residents at all income levels.

Although the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board was one member short of a quorum, members present agreed as a committee of the whole to recommend that City Council adopt the attached resolution encouraging landlords to continue to limit increases for current residents to a maximum 5% increase for properties with tenant paid utilities, and 7% for properties with utilities included in rents.

FISCAL IMPACT: None.
